

NEGRO WOMAN SURRENDERS, DENIES PART IN KIDNAPING

Frieda Robbs Says She Did Nothing More Than Attend Conference Which Led to Return of Orthwein Boy.

ABDUCTOR LIKELY TO GIVE UP TODAY

Charles Y. Abernathy Quoted as Saying That Original Motive Was Robbery but He Decided Later to Demand Ransom

Frieda Robbs, one of three Negroes charged with complicity in the Orthwein kidnapping, surrendered to Sheriff Lill at Clayton today, and Charles Y. Abernathy, named by his father, Pearl Abernathy, Negro real estate dealer, as the abductor, is expected to surrender, possibly today.

Pearl Abernathy, now held in Clayton jail in default of $30,000 bond, has declared that extreme duress impelled his son to hold up the Orthwein automobile at the entrance to the Huntleigh Village country place of Percy J. Orthwein on New Year's Eve, and that the kidnapping of his 13-year-old son, Mollus Busch Orthwein, was an afterthought when it was found the only other occupants of the car, a chauffeur, had only $4.50.

The kidnaper, Charles Abernathy, gave an interview to an afternoon newspaper in which he was quoted as saying he would surrender, asserting that robbery, and not abduction, was his motive for stopping the Orthwein car, but that he decided later to keep the Orthwein boy at his home at 715 Bismark avenue, Webster Groves, with the intention of getting money for his return. The interior did not disclose the kidnappers' whereabouts, of which the police are still in ignorance.

Considers Robbery Charge. Prosecuting Attorney Castlen at Clayton, who has issued kidnapping warrants against the Abernathys and Frieda Robbs, told a reporter today he was considering the filing of a first-degree robbery charge against Charles Abernathy, based on the holdup of the chauffeur, Roy Yowell, and the theft of the money and the Orthwein automobile.

Kidnaping as charged in the warrants issued so far carries with it a maximum penalty of 10 years' imprisonment. Kidnaping for ransom, a capital offense in Missouri, has not been charged.

Maximum penalty for first degree robbery is life imprisonment. Castlen would not discuss the possibility of prosecuting Charles Abernathy under the Henry law which provides death as the maximum penalty for robbery with a deadly weapon.

Frieda Robbs entered the case as a defendant on the statement of Pearl Abernathy that she accompanied him to Clayton New Year's day for a conference with members of the Busch and Orthwein families and assisted in making arrangements for the boy's return.

It was learned today that before surrendering to Sheriff Lill, she visited the Orthwein home and asked for an interview with the father of the kidnapped boy. He refused to see her. In this connection, Harry Troil, attorney for the Busch and Orthwein families in the negotiations for the boy's return, said he had advised his clients to discuss the case with no one except the authorities.

Admitted Part in Conference. In a statement Friday to a Post-Dispatch reporter she admitted she had taken part in the conference at Clayton, held in the Sheriff's office in the absence of Sheriff Lill.

She knew for the first time that something was amiss on the afternoon of New Year's day, she related, when her uncle arrived at his home at 4223 Enright avenue "very upset." She said a telephone call then asked her to go with him to Clayton.

In the Sheriff's office there, she said, they met Percy Orthwein, his brother-in-law, August A. Busch Jr. and Attorney Troil. The party waited for Sheriff Lill to come in, but after a few minutes proceeded to a conference without him.

"My uncle explained the situation," she said. "Then Mr. Orthwein and I left in an automobile and went out on a country road. Mr. Troil and my uncle left in another car. After Mr. Orthwein and

U. S. VIRTUALLY AT MERCY OF POWER FIRM AT SHOALS, ARMY CHIEF ENGINEER SAYS

Gen. Brown's Testimony That Alabama Company Can Pay What It Pleases Is Made Public.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Testimony by Major-General Lytle Brown, Chief of Army Engineers, that the Government virtually is "at the mercy" of the Alabama Power Co. in disposing of Muscle Shoals power was made public today by the Appropriations Committee in reporting the Army supply bill to the House.

This point bore directly on the only disagreement remaining between Senate and House conferees on the measure to dispose of the Shoals plant. The House delegates have ceded to the Senate on Government operation of the power plant but have held steadfast against the construction of Government transmission lines from the power house to municipal customers.

The conferees plan to renew efforts for an agreement tomorrow, but Chairman Snell of the House Rules Committee affirmed again today his opposition to the Government power lines, though he said he was willing to accept a compromise to permit the Government to ask for appropriations for this purpose later if it finds itself unable to sell current at the power house.

In testimony on the War Department supply bill which allots $254,740 for operating Wilson Dam next year, Brown said the Tennessee Power Co. had hooked up with the Alabama Power Co. mainly to play with the Alabama Power Co.

"And you are just at the mercy of that power company," summed up Representative Wright (Dem., Georgia), after Brown had testified. "They are the only customer. Whatever they have a mind to pay you for what power they want to take, they pay. That is it in a nutshell; is it not?"

"That is the way I look at it right now," replied Brown.

The Chief Engineer said that last year he had increased the guarantee required of the Alabama company from $500,000 to $560,000.

"I would have raised them still more if I had thought they would not turn me down," he asserted.

The Tennessee Power Co. does not buy from the Government, but has a transmission line joined with the Alabama company from which Brown said he thought they got Muscle Shoals power.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The packers' consent decree was modified today in an opinion handed down by Justice Jennings Bailey in the District of Columbia Supreme Court. The packers, however, were not given the right to engage in retail merchandising.

Justice Bailey held the evidence showed there was no monopoly in the meat packing business and that none of the packers had sufficient size to constitute a monopoly. He said, however, he thought it would be unwise to modify that portion of the decree which prohibited the packers from owning any interest in stockyards, terminal railroads or market newspapers.

To Handle Fresh Milk, Cream. The decree was modified to allow the packers to engage in the wholesale buying and selling of a number of commodities unrelated to meat packing, such as fish, vegetables, fruits, flour, sugar, rice, cereals, grain, grape juice and various miscellaneous articles. The decree was broadened also to allow the packers' group to handle fresh milk and cream.

The five groups affected originally were Swift & Co., Morris & Co., Cudahy, Wilson & Co., and the Cudahy Packing Co. Morris & Co. has since amalgamated with one of the other groups, and Wilson & Co. and Cudahy did not participate in the effort against the decree. They are affected by the decision, however.

Under the consent decree, entered into in 1920, the five leading groups of packers were forced to confine themselves almost wholly to meat packing. The Supreme Court had upheld the decree but the case was reopened.

Protection for Independents. In the opinion today, Justice Bailey said "the control by the defendants of the great amounts of interstate commerce in meat and other articles from the producer to the consumer would probably result in the almost complete annihilation of the independent grocer, already a minority in numbers."

The packers had contended that the increasing competition by chain stores made it necessary that he be allowed to sell their products at retail.

Frank Hogan, counsel for the packers, said he could make no statement as to the action his clients would take with regard to the opinion. Representatives of Swift & Co. authorized an announcement by Louis F. Swift, company president, that he preferred not to comment on the decision until they have had an opportunity to review it.

No Comment by Government. Neither was any comment forthcoming immediately from the Department of Justice.

Government counsel during argument contended Justice Bailey had no authority to modify the decree. The opinion said the Government had in effect acknowledged the jurisdiction of the District Supreme Court.

The National Wholesale Grocers' Association and the American Wholesale Grocers' Association intervened in opposition to modification.

Decision to Help Cut Distribution Costs, Says Armour Head. By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Modification of the packers' consent decree, under the decision handed down in Washington today, was hailed by F. Edson White, president of Armour & Co., as enabling the packers to contribute toward the modern trend of reducing distributive costs.

One of the contentions of the packers was that handling of other commodities besides meat enabled them to use returning refrigerator cars for bringing in produce and thus avoided deadhead freight costs.

Ruling Permits Group to Engage in Wholesale Buying and Selling of Unrelated Commodities.

RED CROSS TO AID ARKANSAS NEEDY FOR TWO MONTHS

Expert to Survey Conditions at England Where Hungry Tenants Stormed Stores.

FOURTH SIMILAR OUTBREAK IN STATE

Relief Executive Says 250,000 Persons in Commonwealth Will Require Assistance.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch. ENGLAND, Ark., Jan. 5.—The storming of stores by hungry tenants and cotton pickers here Saturday was the fourth such occurrence in the State in the last few weeks, it was learned here today.

Similar demands for food have been made by mob-like gatherings in Lepinta, Crawfordsville and Monett. Others are expected in the cotton country wherever local agencies allow interruption in the steady flow of relief.

Here, as in other communities, the Red Cross got the situation well in hand after a few uneasy hours. Nearly 200 persons obtained food Saturday, and, on the promise of further distribution this week to those still in need, departed in apparent satisfaction. Sunday's crowds on the two business blocks of England, were merely the usual loungers. Nothing indicated anything unusual in the town except huge signs advertising forced sale of two stores and the placard door of a bank which closed last week.

About 25 Men Apply for Aid. About 25 men whom the local Red Cross committee had been unable to take care of in its hours returned today for their ration tickets. They were joined by others. The committee set about satisfying their needs, and conferred with a field expert of the Midwest Red Cross area on measures to carry the needy through the next two months.

The $2000 preliminary allotment from the national drought relief fund has been exhausted. The emergency rations amounted to only $2.50 to $3 in food for the average family and an attempt is being made to determine at once the additional requirements.

The gathering which stormed the England merchants seemed determined but few weapons were carried, none was displayed. Almost conversationally, a committee member related today, one share cropper said: "We may be killed, but we're not going to see our families go hungry."

Apparently Spontaneous. As far as could be determined the meeting of several hundred persons with a common purpose was spontaneous. Community leaders estimated the percentage of immigrants as negligible. Not more than 10 per cent were said to be "immigrant" cotton pickers. Many were recognized as tenants of several years' residence on the same plantation.

The immediate provocation cited by the local committee was a failure to receive a new supply of Red Cross application blanks due to holiday mail delays. Some applicants had been put off until the blanks arrived. The result, among people of actual hunger, was a doubt that relief would continue.

"They come to me and say, 'We don't want Red Cross charity, we want work and our families are starving,'" said G. W. Morris of the committee. "And I've seen some of them cry when they tell about it."

Arkansas Badly Stricken. Arkansas probably suffered more from the drought than any other State. Weather statistics show the drought as 16 per cent severe in this State than any other. In another county there was not enough to lay the dust for 131 days. Drought damaged cotton damage by floods in 1927, backwater in 1928 and tornadoes in 1929, and came in a period of national depression and poor markets.

Immeasurably complicating, those factors is the tenant system which replaced slavery in the cotton fields.

Wildly separated along the highways are the fine frame homes, the oddly new and metropolitan bungalows and are already of a good size.

LOOTING OF BOXES IN CLOSED CHICAGO BANK DISCOVERED

Apparent Theft of $10,000 of Neighborhood Depository's Funds Also Discovered—Employee in Cell.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—The looting of between 20 and 30 safety deposit boxes of the Lawrence Avenue National Bank with an undetermined loss, and the apparent theft of between $10,000 and $20,000 of the bank's funds were disclosed today as examiners prepared to push an investigation of the depository's affairs.

The robbery was discovered late yesterday, when two vault doors were opened in the presence of Federal, county, police and bank officers.

It was estimated the loss from the safety deposit boxes may reach $100,000 in cash and negotiable bonds.

Miss Mary V. Curran, telephone operator of the bank, was taken to the detective bureau today for questioning. Detectives refused to say what information she had given them, but it was intimated she was a friend of the assistant cashier.

The time locks had been set last Thursday to open in 71 hours. John E. Malloy, assistant cashier, who told police that four robbers, posing as bank examiners, had looted the vaults and kidnapped him last Thursday, said that the robbers had forced him to set the time locks. A thousand depositors milled around the bank while police used their clubs effectively to keep them in check. Malloy, who was charged with conspiracy to embezzle, following his return from Milwaukee, where he said the robbers took him, was not present when the vaults were opened. He was held in a Detective Bureau cell, a Federal prisoner.

Ledgers and other books were in disorder and a cursory inspection showed that page records had been torn out or otherwise mutilated. One report said that less than $200 remained in the vault for its supply of cash. There were indications that some of the boxes had been opened with a chisel and hammer.

It could not be learned whether any records bearing on the bank's tentative merger with another bank were missing. It was established, however, that the proposed merger was virtually completed last Thursday, but was held up by Malloy's story of the robbery.

TELLS OF ROMANCE IN HER $200,000 ALIENATION SUIT

Mrs. Grace V. Howard Takes Stand Against Miss Sidney E. Boyle Whose Foster Son She Wed.

Mrs. Grace V. Howard, former candy clerk, who eloped in 1925 with Lloyd Boyle Howard, foster son of Miss Sidney E. Boyle, 5035 Lindell drive, described her romance and marriage to a jury in Circuit Judge Landwehr's court today in the trial of her $200,000 alienation suit against Miss Boyle.

Leaving her 4-year-old son to play about the counsel table, she took the stand as the first witness.

Miss Boyle, who had sat on a spectator's bench beside her adopted son, moved to the counsel table where she sat stiffly as testimony proceeded.

Mrs. Howard, a slender blonde, neatly dressed in a black close-fitting suit, a tan coat and black dress, said she was 24 years old—she was 18 when she married—daughter of a Kentucky, railroad man who died when she was young, leaving her mother with four small children.

Moving in Swimming Pool. After 11 years in a Masonic orphanage at Louisville, she came to St. Louis with her mother and, in 1924, was employed in the Melbourne Hotel Candy Shop at $20 a week. She found herself in deep water in the Forest Park Highlands swimming pool one afternoon, she said, when Howard came to her rescue and assisted her to shallow water.

They liked each other immediately, she related, and Howard asked for permission to call, but she insisted he first obtain her mother's permission. This was done, she went on, and he courted her assiduously for almost a year. Then he proposed marriage.

"I told him I would never marry a man who didn't work," she testified. "He said, 'I would like to work but I never have done any thing. I wouldn't know how to get a job.'"

"So I got a job for him as an usher at the Missouri Theater, at $15 a week, and we drove out to St. Charles and were married. We intended to keep it a secret, but I was so happy I told my sister. Somehow or other a woman who lived at the Melbourne heard about it. She knew Miss Boyle and introduced her Christian duty to me."

DEMOCRATS TO FIGHT FOR EXTRA SUM IN HOUSE

Ranks Marshaled to Contest Administration Stand Money Is Only for Seed and Fertilizer.

VETERANS' BONUS PAYMENT FAVORED

Strong Agitation in Both Houses to Put This Through as Relief Measure—Work Ahead.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Congress voted appropriations for drought relief today, but Senate and House differences must be adjusted before the lending to sufferers can begin. The House approved the $45,000,000 figure for seed, feed and fertilizer loans requested by the administration. The Senate not only did that, but—on motion of Senator Caraway (Dem.), Arkansas—added $15,000,000 more, to be advanced for food purchases by farmers whose crops were hit. No record votes were taken.

The bill went back to the House for action on the food loan amendment. If it refuses to accept that, as seems likely, in view of strong administration objections to the principle involved, and if the Senate persists in its stand, then a conference between the two branches will be in order.

Efforts are expected to be made to send the legislation to the White House as quickly as possible. C. W. Warburton, secretary of the National Drought Relief Committee, testified in congressional hearings on it that loans would be made available within a week after the President signed the appropriation bill.

House Republican leaders announced they would resist all effort to include in appropriation funds for food. Representative Tamm of Connecticut, the majority floor leader, said, "of course, we cannot permit the inclusion of $15,000,000 for the purchase of food."

On the other hand Democratic leaders prepared to support the Senate action.

When the authorization measure was before the House, Representative Garner of Texas, the Democratic leader, led the fight for the food provision. Tamm, however, said the Senate amendment undoubtedly would be stricken from the measure in conference.

Little debate preceded the Senate action on the Caraway amendment. Senators Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, and Bradley, Kentucky, spoke in its behalf, and Chairman Jones of the Appropriations Committee opposed it, but appeared willing to let it go to conference.

The conference committee on the original bill to authorize the drought funds struck out a similar Senate provision.

Senator Caraway, in moving to increase the appropriation to $60,000,000 with authority to permit loans for purchase of food, insisted that the Red Cross was unable to meet human distress in his own state of Arkansas.

Caraway read a letter he said he had received from a Government officer saying the Red Cross had given a family of three $1.15 worth of groceries to last a month.

"I would say to some who talk about a raid upon the Treasury and a dole," he said, "to try to accommodate themselves on that kind of a ration for a week to a month and find out how it works."

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, joined in the appeal for additional drought funds. He said that in three counties in Arkansas no banks were open and no credit facilities were available.

Quick Action on Measure. The administration bill for $45,000,000, without loans for human food, had passed the House almost immediately upon the reconvening of Congress at noon after a two-weeks' recess.

President Hoover's formal request for the appropriation of $45,000,000 was made today.

3 KILLED IN PLANE AT ST. JOSEPH, MO.

Craft Crashes When Piece of Wing Fabric Is Ripped Out in Power Dive.

By the Associated Press.
ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Jan. 5.—The wreckage of a monoplane in which three men were killed yesterday was the subject of an investigation here today by a Department of Commerce inspector.

The plane had been taken up for the final test for cross country races at Miami, Fla. Two miles from Rosecrans Airport, where the craft took off, the pilot pointed the nose of the ship downward. He had reached an estimated speed of 200 miles an hour when observers at the airport saw a square of fabric rip from the upper surface of the left wing. Then the plane went into a twisting spin and crashed to earth.

The dead, all of whom lived here, were: Winston L. Hyatt, pilot of the plane and operator of an airplane service; Leroy Blumer, a pilot; and Harold E. Payne, a mechanical dentist.

All were dead when rescuers reached the scene. The plane's motor had buried itself in the slope of a ravine.

Three Killed in Texas When Plane Hits Tree in Fog.

By the Associated Press.
OVERTON, Tex., Jan. 5.—A dense fog was blamed today for the loss of three lives yesterday in the crash of an airplane against a forest pine. H. Addison Neerer, 25 years old, Kansas City pilot; Thomas Holcombe, 26, Midland, Tex., a student flyer; and Horace F. Clark, 26, president of the United Guaranty Securities Co. of Dallas, were killed.

The pilot was employed by the Gauley-Slifer Co., which owned the airplane. Holcombe, a student at Love Field, had accepted an invitation to make the trip to Shreveport as a pleasure jaunt.

ARMED MEN GET 337 AND 4 AUTOS IN TEN HOLDUPS

Smoke Shop.

Ten holdups with deadly weapons in which $337.80, jewelry valued at $265 and four automobiles were taken, were reported by police today.

Robert M. Walton, 5986 Cates street, seated in his automobile in front of 6180 Pershing avenue, the home of his companion, Miss Nancy Brown, was held up last night by two armed men who took $13.35, his watch and $100 ring, and Miss Brown's $35 purse.

An hour later, the automobile was exchanged for that of Robert J. Bowden, 3627 Cook avenue, who was robbed of an $80 watch as he sat in his machine on Art Hill with Miss Betty Ferguson, 278 Plaza street. Bowden drove Walton's machine to the Mounted Police Station and turned it over to police.

Gene Dawson, 2207A Montgomerystreet, a taxicab chauffeur, was robbed of $5 and put out of his job by two men on Telegraph road in St. Louis County, by three armed men. The machine was recovered later. August Koepfel, also a cab chauffeur, reported that robbers answering the same description forced him from his machine after taking $15 at Union and Bayless roads, St. Louis County.

The Arsenal Smoke Shop, 3543 Arsenal street, was held up by two robbers who took $125 after searching the proprietor, Henry Kohn, and seven customers in a rear room.

Walking in front of 1900 Carr street, William Schultz, 5916 Cote Brillante avenue, was held up by a Negro who knocked him down and robbed him of $13.60. Schultz called police who recognized the Negro and the man was arrested. He was identified by Schultz, but denied the accusation.

Julius Baron, 5157 Cabanne avenue, reported $400 taken from his home by a burglar who gained entrance through a second-story window after climbing upon the porch. A neighbor, Mrs. Emma Wanglin, 5108 Cabanne avenue, heard a noise in her house and called police, but they found no one. Mrs. Wanglin said $1 had been taken.

Judge A. V. Lashly and Wife Held Up by Three Armed Men.
Circuit Judge Arthur V. Lashly and his wife were held up yesterday by three armed robbers, who answered the description of men who committed three other holdups on St. Louis County roads Saturday night and early Sunday.

Judge Lashly was driving south on North and South road at 1:30 a. m. when the men drove alongside and shouted to him. Believing they were officers, Judge Lashly stopped and alighted. One man pressed a revolver against the Judge, while a second pointed a sawed-off shotgun at him. The robbers took $5, several checks and a key case from Judge Lashly's pockets, then searched him a second time to determine that nothing of value had been overlooked. Mrs. Lashly, who stood by her husband's side, was not searched. She was asked if she had anything of value, and answered in the negative.

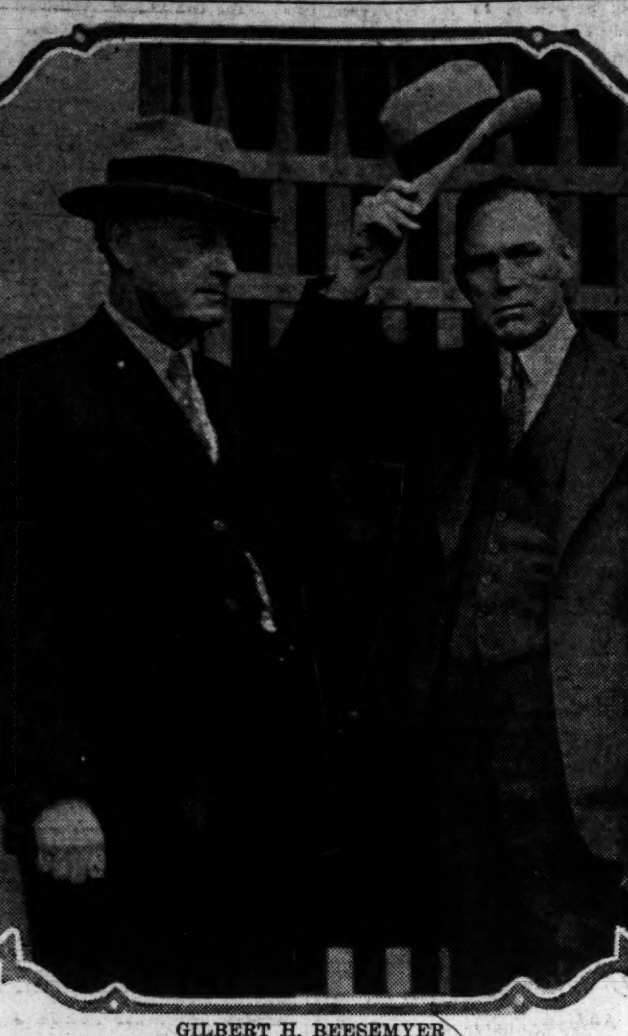

One robber donned Judge Lashly's derby hat, and then returned the case of keys before departing. Overcome by the excitement, Mrs. Lashly fainted, and had to be revived by her husband before being taken to the Lashly home at 511 Bonaparte avenue, Webster Groves. Judge Lashly goes out of office today.

Frank Ferris, 18 Lenox place, a student at Yale University; John Swift Jr., 29 Brentmoor Park; and Miss Eleanor Conant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George K. Conant, 13 Portland place, were held up by the same trio of robbers on Spring avenue near St. Charles Rock. The robbers took a country club bracelet from Miss Conant, Swift's coat, watch, and a bag and Ferris was robbed of his hat and overcoat.

Millard Smith, 4943 Maryland avenue, a student, reported that his automobile was stopped by the robbers on Lindbergh boulevard, near St. Charles Rock road, and he was robbed of his overcoat and a small sum of money.

The automobile used by the robbers belongs to a driverless agency, and was stolen from Lesley Halve, 2706 Salome avenue, Pine Lawn, who was held up near his home. The machine was found abandoned in Pine Lawn yesterday. The robbers are described as galows, the old-time brick or stone mansions of the planters. Scattered between them, one to every 10 or 20 acres, are the shanties of tenants and share croppers.

Tenants provide their own teams and equipment and pay one-third or one-fourth crop rent to the landlord. Share croppers have nothing to invest but labor and pay crop rentals up to 50 per cent.

The share cropper system obviously invites concentration on the "money" crop, cotton, and neglect of food crops, hay and grain, garden stuff, poultry and livestock. The share cropper is surprisingly like the city dweller in having to buy everything he eats.

Lenore County demonstrates the effect of the system. The northern half of the county, where crops are fairly diversified, is reported to have 600 families needing direct relief. From the southern half, devoted almost exclusively to cotton, 1000 have applied for and received rations from Red Cross headquarters at England.

In 1929 the land about England produced an average of half a bale of cotton to the acre. The cotton brought as much as 21 cents a pound and the seed brought as much as $30 in addition on each bale.

Low Income for Farmer.
Last year the land produced about one-fourth bale to the acre. Some was plowed under as not worth picking. What was sold went for 7 1/2 to 11 cents a pound. A 500-pound bale brought approximately $50 and the seed added little more than $5 to it. That meant that a share cropper with 20 acres got about $250 for his year's income.

Fewer "immigrants" pickers than usual were attracted to the fertile bottom lands, but the cotton which lasted until March on the last crop, ran out before Dec. 1. The pickers, and this time they had received only 50 cents a 100 pounds, instead of the $1 paid last year, were left stranded without funds for their annual migration back to the hills.

Planters, following the paternalistic annual custom of the tenant system, had carried their farmers through the non-productive months of last winter with credit on the prospective crop for the necessities of life. The workers had spent all their comparatively large earnings from the 1929 crop, following the annual custom born of their utter dependence on the landlords.

It may be well to point out that this feudal reliance on the land-owning class is not necessarily a mere offshoot of the system. There seems ground for the contention that it may have been one of the parents of the system.

Neither planters nor "farmers" made enough on the 1929 crop to pay off the debts they had contracted on its prospects.

No More Credit.
Tenants could get no more credit at the stores. Not more than six planters about England had rations with which to "furnish" their tenants, as they call the custom of providing food over the loan months.

With national business and farm depression as a background, the plights of tenants, stores, planters and banks interacted on each other in a singularly vicious circle. One of the two banks at England closed, as have 128 in the State since Nov. 17. The cause was given as "frozen assets," and, although depositors are expected to realize 100 per cent, the closing "froze" $250,000 in public and private funds until next fall pending liquidation.

The result of all these factors, national and sectional, acute and chronic, was described by Albert Evans, assistant national director of the Red Cross in charge of drought relief, as a far worse disaster in number of families needing direct relief than the flood of 1927.

The flood, he said, involved a total of 150,000 families, including about 700,000 persons, whereas in Arkansas alone he estimated 50,000 families, of 250,000 persons, will require relief from actual hunger and suffering this month.

"And that," he added, "is only one of a half dozen states in my area, and one of an even dozen where the Red Cross is administering relief. The difference is that of a quarter of a million persons affected by the flood, and a quarter of a million families affected by the drought. The difference is that between a spectacular, clean-cut disaster, which everyone recognized at once, and a slow, creeping paralysis gradually wiping out all the reserves of thousands of families before anyone seems aware of it."

Last August, Evans said, the Red Cross determined that possibly not until Jan. 1 but probably by Dec. 1 food supplies would approach exhaustion in the drought stricken regions. Since November, he related, it had taken care of 21,000 families in 43 counties; the national organization aiding wherever the load became too heavy for the local chapter alone.

He estimated its expenditures in merely "easing in" to prevent the first symptoms of actual suffering at $250,000 for Arkansas and $500,000 for the five other states for which he directs drought relief—Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas, Montana and Illinois.

"If the requirements for direct relief in the other five states have been as great," he remarked, "a fifth of the $5,000,000 disaster reserve of the National Red Cross has been spent in these first steps."

MUSICIAN KILLED WHEN AUTO SKIDS INTO SIGNAL POST

Donald R. Cowan, Member of Hotel Dance Orchestra, Thrown From Car and Neck Broken.

Donald L. Cowan, saxophone player in Isham Jones' orchestra, was killed at 3:20 p. m. today when his light coupe skidded into an automatic traffic signal at Big Bend boulevard and Manchester road while running more than 40 miles an hour. A 17-year-old girl riding with him suffered only a scratch on one cheek.

Cowan was thrown out of the automobile when it struck. His neck was broken, his chest crushed and he suffered cuts and other injuries. He was found beneath the wreckage of the car, which was demolished. The light standard was wrecked and the gasoline tank of the car was thrown 60 feet by the force of the collision.

With Cowan was Miss Irita Moffett, a student at Monticello Seminary, the daughter of James McC. Moffett, vice president of the Midwest Piping Co. Miss Moffett has been spending the Christmas holidays with her parents at 240 Blackmer avenue, Webster Groves.

Miss Moffett told a reporter shortly after the accident, that Cowan had applied his brakes suddenly a moment before the crash. Other members of the orchestra explained to Maplewood police that Cowan had complained about his brakes and had them adjusted Saturday.

The orchestra concluded an engagement at the Coronado Hotel last night and was to have gone to Cincinnati today. Cowan was 26 years old and had been with the orchestra about two years. His home was in Minneapolis. An inquest will be held.

Open Verdict in Death of Woman Hurt in Auto Accident.

An open verdict was returned by a coroner's jury today in the case of Mrs. Mary Votruba, 41 years old, who died Saturday night at her home, 1167 Michigan avenue, two months after being injured in an automobile accident. The verdict was that she died of heart disease following shock and injuries suffered in the accident.

The Circuit Attorney's office said the driver, Melvin H. Lenzner, 3214 Cherokee street, would not be held. Witnesses testified he was driving at a moderate speed when his automobile struck Mrs. Votruba near Utah and Oregon streets. She suffered severe bruises.

form her. The next day Lloyd told me that Miss Boyle knew all about it."

Moved Into Furnished Room.
Mrs. Howard related that they moved into a furnished room at 3802 Westminster place and that Howard proudly handed over his first pay check. About two months later, she said, Miss Boyle decided that Howard was not strong enough to work and persuaded them both to quit their jobs and move into her apartment at Hotel Chase.

"Every morning at 6 o'clock Miss Boyle knocked on our door and woke my husband," she continued. "He would dress and go to her room for two or three hours. I was invited, too, but I quit after the first time because Miss Boyle laughed at my reading. I wanted to go to night school and learn English. Miss Boyle gave me a spelling lesson and told me I missed on words a 2-year-old child could spell."

She testified that Miss Boyle brought all her dresses, selecting garments several sizes too large and handing them out from a locked closet as they were needed. Miss Boyle took her foster son on automobile rides, she said, leaving his wife at home because Miss Boyle insisted, he "needed to go out and get away from her."

"Nothing I did ever seemed to satisfy her," Mrs. Howard declared. "She was always finding fault, telling me I was common and vulgar. I really tried awfully hard. She burst into tears and a recess was ordered for her to compose herself."

The pair were married in April, 1925, and separated June 17, last. Govened "Like a Scarecrow." Mrs. Howard's attorney, Edward W. Forstall, told the jury he would show that Miss Boyle did all she could to turn her foster son against his wife, buying her ill-fitting clothes to make her "look like a scare-crow." He described "a bridal nightgown made of wool with a big collar," which he said Miss Boyle purchased for the young woman.

On the other hand, George T. Priest, attorney for Miss Boyle, argued that she had done everything possible to make the marriage successful, taking the pair into her home and deciding not to take advantage of her legal right to seek an annulment of the marriage.

Howard, the attorney said, was in a dazed condition, suffering with heart and lung trouble, when he eloped and was not responsible for his act. It was the bride who caused the difficulties, he said, relating that she had left Howard at least 10 times, and had struck him with a bank chair and vases during fits of temper.

FEDERAL AND STATE BOND SALES ARE SUBJECT TO TAX

Supreme Court Ruling on Profits Reverses Decision of Lower Tribunal.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Profits from the sale of Federal and state bonds today were ruled subject to state and Federal taxes by the Supreme Court. The decision was handed down in a case brought by the Government against Charles W. Bunn of Minnesota.

The Government contended such taxes would not constitute an illegal burden on the securities and conceded that should its position be sustained the states would be empowered to tax profits from Federal bonds. The lower courts held a tax on profits would, in effect, be a tax on the public securities involved and ruled such taxes invalid under the provision of the constitution prohibiting the imposition of undue burdens on Federal, state and municipal securities.

OWEN D. YOUNG THREATENED; GUARDED BY POLICE A MONTH

Writing of Death Notes to Financial Editor Attributed to Disgruntled Inventor.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Death threats by an anonymous writer, thought to be a disgruntled inventor, have led police to assign a guard for Owen D. Young, chairman of the board of the General Electric Co. and the Radio Corporation of America.

Police Commissioner Mulrooney said today a guard had attended Young here the last month. The existence of the guard was disclosed as the result of Young's recent visit to his home at Van Hornesville, near Utica. State troopers met a New York detective who was with Young at Fort Plain and escorted the financier to Van Hornesville.

Mulrooney said he understood Young has received three or four letters, apparently from an inventor, threatening to blow up his home.

PROPOSES OLD AGE PENSION

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—An old age pension system was proposed in the Senate today by Senator Caraway (Dem.), Arkansas. He introduced a bill to appropriate $12,000,000 annually for the next three years to be allocated to the states when matched by equal amounts for supporting aged and disabled citizens.

Any citizen of good moral character, who had been a citizen of the country for 20 years, was 65 years of age, had no property in excess of $4000 and no child or other person responsible for his support would be eligible for the pension.

WOMAN ADMITS SHOOTING IN 1919 IN DICE QUARREL

Arrested by St. Louis Police on Information That She Is Wanted for Murder of Woman in Tulsa.

Mrs. Sylvia Moeller, who says she shot another woman in a quarrel over a dice game in Tulsa 11 years ago, is held at Police Headquarters pending instructions from Oklahoma authorities as to the disposition of her case.

Arrested last night at 1008 South Eighth street on information she was wanted in Tulsa for murder, Mrs. Moeller said she shot Mary Smith in a Tulsa rooming house on April 3, 1919, when she was 17 years old and employed as a cook in a Tulsa restaurant.

She had rolled the dice seven times for $50 a shot, she said, and had produced the lucky seven each time, when the Smith woman accused her of using "crooked dice."

"I told her, 'They're your dice; not mine,' and she got mad," said Mrs. Moeller. "She grabbed a hatchet and started toward me. I picked up her revolver and fired two shots. She fell down and I ran out. I never heard whether she died or got well."

Mrs. Moeller said she worked in various cities, abandoning her maiden name of Sylvia Hodo and finally marrying a man named Moeller. Police declined to disclose the source of information which resulted in her arrest.

Dispatches from Tulsa showed that "Big Mary" Smith was shot and killed in an alleged gambling house following a quarrel over a dice game on March 21, 1921. On April 3, 1919, the date given by Mrs. Moeller, Edwin B. Linaugh, Independence, Mo., was shot and tossed from an automobile in downtown Tulsa, fatally wounded. Neither murder was solved. Records of the Smith murder are incomplete.

ADMITS KILLING WIFE AND 'FRIEND OF FAMILY'

Vaudeville Musician Gives Up to Los Angeles Police—Companion Held.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 5.—Frank Hugo, 35 years old, a vaudeville musician, and his friend, John Duce, 33, are held by police in the killing Saturday night of Hugo's wife, Mrs. Rhya Hugo, 23, mother of two small children, and Louis White, 30, described as a friend of the Hugo family.

After the shooting Hugo called police and told them he had found White and his wife together and had killed them. He said Duce had helped him crawl through a bedroom window.

The fact that Hugo used a .35 caliber pistol and a .32 caliber exploded shell was found in the hall where the shooting occurred led police to suspect that Duce also took part in the shooting.

Hugo said he had long suspected Mrs. Hugo and White and had set a trap for them by telling Mrs. Hugo he was going to be out of the city Saturday. He had his mother take the Hugo children, a boy, 7, and a girl 5, to a movie Saturday evening.

FANNIE TODD MITCHELL LEAVES NEW HUSBAND

Former St. Louis Playwright's Secret Marriage and Estrangement Disclosed.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The secret marriage and subsequent estrangement of Mrs. Fannie Todd Mitchell, Broadway playwright and former St. Louisan, and Leon Leonidoff, director of productions for the Roxy Theater, were disclosed today.

The marriage, known only to intimate friends, took place Oct. 6 at the home of the Rev. John Quigley in Mamaronock, N. Y. Mr. and Mrs. Leonidoff are now living apart and Mrs. Leonidoff has considered a suit for separation.

"I can't seem to make up my mind," she said today. "I dislike the thought of all the unpleasant publicity a suit would bring so soon after my marriage. Right now I have definitely abandoned all plans for an immediate suit."

Mrs. Leonidoff, who returned recently from a visit to relatives in St. Louis during the Christmas holidays, declined to discuss the nature of the quarrel with her husband.

Mrs. Leonidoff, formerly Fannie Todd Clark, is the widow of Malcolm M. Mitchell, a New York advertising man. It was after his death that she attempted to write for the professional stage, preparing several adaptations and writing the play "Boom-Boom" which was a Broadway hit two years ago.

She is now under a five-year contract with the Shubert, J. P. Morgan and "Die Fledermaus" produced in New York, was adopted by her for the English stage, as was "Music in May," an opera.

Mrs. Leonidoff began her dramatic activities with the Junior League of St. Louis shortly after her debut in 1915. She met Mitchell when he was a balloon student there during the World War and married him when he returned from service overseas.

During the holidays Mrs. Leonidoff and her son, Peter Mitchell, were in St. Louis visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Todd Clark, 4707 Westminster place.

Eleven lives lost in Alpine snowslides

Party of Six Overwhelmed While Going Through Pass—Four Skiers Disappear.

By the Associated Press.

GRIGNOLE, France, Jan. 5.—Eleven persons were killed by Alpine avalanches in the vicinity over the week-end.

Six Frenchmen died as they were engulfed in an Alpine pass at the Franco-Italian frontier not far from Briancon when a snowslide 25 to 30 feet high crashed down upon them.

Two Paris students, Robert Jones and Robert May were skiing at a height of 8,000 feet near Briancon when they were caught in an avalanche. Jones extricated himself, but his friend was buried under many feet of snow.

SUPREME COURT REFUSES TO PASS ON RADIO ACT

Questions Presented From Appellate Court in Improper Form, Justice Roberts Says.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The Supreme Court today declined to pass on the validity of the law under which the Radio Commission operates. The controversy reached the court in questions submitted by the Circuit Court of Appeals and invited whether radio broadcasting stations had a property right in the air.

The commission required Clinton E. White to reduce the power of station WCRW at Chicago and refused to renew the licenses of stations WMBB and WOK, the former at Chicago and the latter at Homewood, near Chicago.

The Federal District Court at Chicago sustained the commission, but the Circuit Court of Appeals asked for instructions from the Supreme Court.

The Government insisted that no one could obtain a property right in the air, asserting its use constituted interstate commerce over which Congress had exclusive control.

RESERVE BANKS' NET FOR 1930 $28,415,000 UNDER 1929

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Gross earnings of the 12 Federal Reserve banks amounted to $36,424,000 in 1930, which was slightly more than half the amount reported for 1929.

The Federal Reserve Board announced today that gross earnings in 1929 amounted to $70,955,000.

Current expenses of the banks totaled $28,348,000 as compared with $29,691,000 in 1929. Net earnings in 1930 amounted to $7,985,000 as compared with $36,403,000 the preceding year.

Five banks, those in New York, Philadelphia, Atlanta, Minneapolis and Dallas, had net earnings sufficient to pay accrued dividends in full, the board said, while the remaining seven banks paid their dividends entirely or part out of surplus.

Total dividends for the system aggregate $10,359,000. Two of the banks, Minneapolis and Dallas, paid $17,808 into the United States Treasury as franchise taxes.

The surplus of the 12 Federal Reserve banks combined after the closing of the books at the end of the year amounted to $274,636,000, a net reduction for the year of $2,298,000. The subscribed capital amounted to $389,280,000.

$35,000,000 FOR FLOOD CONTROL IN SUPPLY BILL

Measure Also Includes $60,000,000 for Other River Work.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—An appropriation of $446,024,000 was allowed the War Department for maintenance of the army and prosecution of waterway projects next fiscal year in the annual supply bill received today by the House.

Of the total $446,024,000 was designated for rivers and harbors and $35,000,000 for flood control on the Mississippi.

A legislative provision would prohibit payment of salaries to officers on the active list who are employed or engaged in any manner with a publication carrying paid advertisements. This is directed at officers who have been writing for magazines and undoubtedly will meet with opposition in both Senate and House.

By June of 1932, Gen. Fochet testified before the Appropriations Committee, the army will have on hand or ordered 1583 useful airplanes, while the National Guard will have 152 more.

Housing construction and Army Air Corps construction provided for under the bill included Jefferson Barracks, Mo., $18,000.

22,000 MEN RECALLED TO DETROIT AUTO PLANTS

11,500 to Two Ford Factories, 5000 to Cadillac and 6000 to Buick at Flint.

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 5.—Automobile factories in the Detroit area recalled 22,000 workers today.

The Rouge plant of the Ford Motor Co. recalled 6500 men; the East Windsor plant of Ford 5000; the Cadillac Motor Car Co. 6000 and the Buick Motor Co. plant at Flint 4500.

Ford executives announced that the men recalled to their two plants brought the total employment to the point where it stood when they closed for inventory Dec. 19. The 6000 men recalled to the Cadillac factory was said to show a gain of 5000 from 500 to 750 men over the number employed when the factory closed Dec. 19.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 5.—H. G. Fitzgerald of Columbus, O., and Alonso E. Smith of Philadelphia, convicted of defrauding numerous small investors in Florida land sales, today were sentenced to a year each in the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta.

The men were accused of defrauding persons in various parts of the country of more than $200,000 through exploitation of tracts in "Melbourne Heights," which the prosecution declared, were undeveloped back-factory was said to show a gain of 5000 from 500 to 750 men over the number employed when the factory closed Dec. 19.

WAY CLEANED FOR SECOND EFFORT BY ATLANTIC FLYERS

Payment of $400 for New Sextant for the "Trade Wind" Guaranteed.

By the Associated Press.

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 5.—The difficulty over a sextant which threatened to halt the second attempted trans-Atlantic flight of Mrs. Beryl Hart and Lieut. William S. MacLaren has been settled. It was announced today at Annapolis by Commander P. V. Weems of the Naval Academy, with the guarantee of payment for the new instrument sent to them at Norfolk from Annapolis. Bad weather at Norfolk today prevented resumption of flight.

Payment of $400 for the instrument was guaranteed today by H. L. Copey of the Newark Landing here Saturday after nearly reaching Bermuda, which was to have been their refueling point, the flyers had the plane, the Trade Wind, overhauled yesterday.

Mrs. Hart is owner of the Trade Wind, and piloted it for most of the 16 hours on its unsuccessful attempt to reach Bermuda Saturday.

Mrs. Hart and Lieut. MacLaren said at noon today that weather permitting they would hop off at 6 a. m. tomorrow.

PRIEST TOLD TO TONE DOWN RADIO SERMONS

Father Coughlin's Attacks on Hoover and Others Draw Complaints of Listeners.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, rector of the Shrine of the Little Flower in Detroit, who in a series of Sunday night sermons over the Columbia Broadcasting System has attacked the national administration and big employers for failing to cope with the unemployment situation, announced over the radio last night that his subject had been changed.

Father Coughlin has spared few in his attacks. He has criticized President Hoover for failing to meet the situation. He also has attacked the automobile builders of Detroit for dismissing their workers wholesale. He has advocated the six-hour day and five-day week as a permanent remedy for unemployment.

At the Columbia System's offices here it was admitted that "suggestions" had been made to Father Coughlin to moderate his criticisms. "Complaints have been made by listeners," said an officer of the Columbia System last night, "that some parts of Father Coughlin's Sunday night talks were objectionable. He was asked to eliminate these features."

"Were these objections on religious grounds?" "Oh, no, entirely economic," the Columbia man responded. "He was asked only to moderate his talks so as to silence objectors. What happens in the future is entirely up to him. The weekly hour is still open to him if he wants to utilize it."

Officers said the rector's radio addresses were arranged by himself, that he purchased the time he used on the air, and that it had no expectation that he would not continue to make his Sunday evening addresses. Columbia spokesmen said the objections came from listeners to several stations which threatened to drop the program unless the remarks were tempered.

Priest "Going to Heart of Trouble Next Sunday," He Says.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 5.—The radio address on unemployment which he was asked to "temper and restrain" last night will be delivered next Sunday evening with some added touches which will make it stronger, the Rev. Father Charles E. Coughlin said today, commenting on protests against his series of talks which were sent to the Columbia Broadcasting System. Father Coughlin named two of the stations which he said protested against his talk as "too inflammatory." They are WGR of Buffalo and WCCO of Minneapolis. The priest said he agreed to "temper and restrain" last night's remarks after a Saturday midnight call from an executive of the Columbia System.

"I thereby gave the protesting stations an opportunity to get a real expression of opinion from the public on my sermons," Father Coughlin declared, and he predicted that the stations which have threatened to drop off the CBS chain when he speaks will discover that the majority of their listeners want to hear the address.

"They will learn that the propaganda against me comes from an organized minority," the priest predicted. Labor leaders assured him today that thousands of protests against those who objected to the talks will be lodged in short order, he said.

"I am going to the heart of the trouble next Sunday," Father Coughlin said. "I am going to discuss the peace treaty of Versailles, the basis of our present trouble."

The priest said he knew the names of a few persons who made individual protests, but was not at liberty to reveal them.

JUDGES HOFFMEISTER AND BECK ASSUME THEIR DUTIES

Former Assigned to Civil Division No. 17 and Latter to Domestic Relations.

Judges Fred J. Hoffmeister and Clyde C. Beck assumed their positions today on the Circuit Court bench to which they were elected last November.

Judge Hoffmeister was assigned to Division No. 17 in the Civil Courts Building and Judge Beck to Division 16 in the Court of Domestic Relations. When they convened court they found their benches decorated with flowers.

Judge Hoffmeister was elected for the remainder of the unexpired term of the late Judge Moses Sale which has four years to run. He succeeded Judge Harry E. Sprague, who was appointed by Gov. Cullfield after the death of Judge Sale, but who refused to become a candidate in the election. Sprague will resume the practice of law.

Judge Beck, a former City Police Court Judge, was appointed to a full term of six years, taking the place of Judge Fitzsimmons, who, running on the Democratic ticket, failed to re-election. Judge Fitzsimmons also will resume the practice of law. He was appointed to the bench by the Governor to serve in one of the two additional Circuit Courts created by the last Legislature, Judge Bader being the other appointee. Judge Bader also began a new complete term of six years today, as did Judges Hall, Hartmann, Hogan and Landwehr, all re-elected.

WOMAN IN THEATER WHEN HUSBAND IS SLAIN OUTSIDE

Chicago Politician's Son, Cook County Employee, Shot to Death From Auto.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Mrs. Harry Silverstein, in a moving picture theater last night, while outside, in the rear of the building, her husband was being shot to death. Silverstein was the son of a West Side Democratic politician and an employee in the county building.

Robert Lewis, who was at work in the rear of the theater, said he heard three shots, threw open the door and saw Silverstein collapse. John Jersey told police he saw an automobile drive away from the scene after the shots had been fired.

Whisky in Motor Cycle Side Car.

A motor cycle policeman, who pursued a speeding motor cycle along Broadway, from Chouteau avenue to Butler street, last night, arrested the driver following the finding of whisky in a side car. The driver was booked as Domenico Venditto, 2840 Chippewa street.

Quick Relief for Common Coughs, Mixed at Home

Here is the famous old recipe which millions of housewives have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up severe coughs due to cold. It takes but a moment to prepare and costs little, but it gives real relief in a hurry.

From any drugstore, get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. Thus you make a full pint of better remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times the cost. It never spoils and tastes so good that even children like it.

Not only does this simple mixture soothe and heal the inflamed throat membranes with surprising ease, but also it is absorbed into the blood, and acts directly upon the bronchial tubes, thus aiding the whole system in throwing off the cough. It loosens the germs laden phlegm and eases chest constriction in a way that is really astonishing.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of incipient bronchial coughs and other severe coughs due to colds. Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

TWO GOVERNORS CALL CONFERENCE FOR OIL RELIEF

Executives of Kansas and Oklahoma Invite Eight Other States to Send Delegates.

DEPRESSION LAID TO HEAVY IMPORTS

Sessions in Washington Jan. 15 to Discuss Means of Averting Abandonment of 300,000 Wells.

By the Associated Press. OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 5.—The major oil producing states were asked today to join in a national relief conference January 15 at Washington.

Governors Holloway of Oklahoma and Reed of Kansas sent telegraphic messages last night to Governors of eight other states, urging them to send delegations representing the oil industry and the people to the National Capital. Expressing their belief that the distressed condition of the petroleum industry has depressed agriculture and business, the two executives said the conference was for the purpose of "working out plans for immediate relief for this great, basic industry."

To large free imports of petroleum products from foreign fields was attributed most of the depression by the Governors, who said their successors in office concurred in the call. Harry Woodring of Kansas and W. H. Murray of Oklahoma will replace Reed and Holloway Jan. 12.

Drop in Oil Price

The price of oil has dropped from a peak average of $3.50 a barrel during the World War to $1.04 in Oklahoma, largest producing State. On Jan. 1 the Prairie Oil and Gas Company, major mid-continent buyer, cut off the outlet for nearly 30,000 small wells by withdrawing from the market.

Secretary of the Interior Wilbur was advised of the impending conference, to which were invited representatives of Oklahoma, Kansas, Louisiana, Texas, New Mexico, Montana, Colorado, California, Arkansas and Wyoming. There are nine other oil-producing states.

Each of the 16 states was asked to send at least 20 representatives from the oil industry and five representing "the people in general."

Wirt Franklin, Oklahoma independent producer, will lead the Oklahoma delegation.

The message of Holloway and Reed said the petroleum industry was in "dire distress" and that unless conditions improved 300,000 small wells producing a total of 500,000 barrels of oil daily would be abandoned. Thousands of independent producers, refiners and marketers faced destruction, it said.

Effect on Labor

"Hundreds of thousands of men" would be unemployed and farmers and other land owners would be deprived of lease returns upon which they depend unless conditions are bettered," the Governors said. They added that relief to the oil industry is also a farm relief measure.

Aid for the oil industry would "automatically bring a measure of relief for the entire country," the message continued.

Producing states, by virtue of their royalty holdings, suffer from depression in oil, Reed and Holloway said. Farmers, they added, need oil land rentals in time of low priced farm products and crop failures.

"The present situation, in our opinion, has been brought about by a loss of market for oil produced in the United States, occasioned by ever increasing imports of crude oil and refined products which imports have absorbed in large measure markets of the Eastern states."

Efforts to obtain an oil tariff have been renewed in Washington. They failed in the last session of Congress.

TO CONTINUE PEIPING FLIGHT

Amy Johnson Unmoved by Damage to Her Plane.

By the Associated Press.

WARSAW, Jan. 5.—Despite a mishap 40 miles north of here when she smashed the undercarriage of her plane in making a forced landing late yesterday, it is understood Miss Amy Johnson, British woman aviator, intends to continue her much opposed flight to Peiping, China.

Leaving Berlin shortly before noon the 23-year-old flyer was driven by the wind to the north of her objective, Warsaw, when she turned about she ran into a heavy fogbank, and finally made a forced landing at the village of Amolin, near Krasnosielk. She was not injured. "I am all right," she told newspaper men over the telephone. "I will leave my plane here and go to Warsaw."

Held for Killing Father-in-law

GREAT BEND, Kan., Jan. 5.—George Hartness, 37 years old, was held today charged with killing his father-in-law, C. J. Mangos, and wounding his mother-in-law after failing to adjust domestic difficulties with Mrs. Hartness. Officers said Hartness also beat his wife with a piece of pipe.

MACHINE GUN USED IN HOLDUP

Ninth Robbery of Kind in Three Days in Brooklyn.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Brooklyn had another machine gun holdup early yesterday, the ninth within three days, and the robbers escaped the detail of 100 policemen specially set to watch for them.

Four robbers entered the Pleasant Cafeteria, 1557 Pitkin avenue, and while one of them covered five employees and three customers lined up along the wall, his three companions rifled the cash register and the safe of $750.

2273 FAMILIES AIDED IN DAY AT WELCOME INN

Baskets of Food Distributed Twice a Week From Station at Free Bridge.

Baskets of food, on recent Wednesdays and Saturdays, have been distributed to as many as 2273 families at Welcome Inn, on South Fourth street under the Free Bridge, Mrs. J. M. Francis, chairman of the volunteer committee in charge, reported yesterday.

The twice weekly distribution begins at 1 p. m. Last Wednesday hundreds were waiting in line at 10:30 a. m., and at 5 p. m. 1928 families had been provided with something to eat on the first day of the new year, at least.

Filling into the huge frame inclosures, the applicants kept four men more than busy taking names and addresses. They stepped wearily, for they had come from as far away as $100 north and they had walked. It would cost many of them did not have to ride street cars.

Two women collapsed. "Were they merely trying to get served earlier?" asked someone of the workers, for such attempts have happened. One of the women, a Negro, reclined with head thrown back against a stack of bags and crates; the other bent forward despondently, chin on hands.

Women Bring Babies.

Other women, some with babies in arms, waited in packed hundreds in an inclosure along the wall. There were many men, without jobs to prevent their running such errands.

West End shops and bargain basements were represented in the dress of the volunteers. Members of historic families worked side by side with the daughters and wives of unemployed laborers—sorting vegetables donated by Commission Row, dishing stew from a tub into paper containers, filling paper sacks with coffee and beans, opening bags and crates and boxes.

An oil burner in an abandoned boiler furnace and two coal stoves provided some heat. A donated radio helped lighten the tedious wait for those in line.

At 1 p. m. the bar was lifted and the line began to file through, filling baskets and shopping bags, cafeteria style. For nearly four hours the steady flow continued, while mountains of bread and crates of fresh vegetables dwindled as steadily.

Most of Food Donated.

At 5, when the workers took their turn at what little was left, they had handed out 120 bushels of potatoes, 30 of onions, 45 of turnips, 45 of squash and 50 of radishes; two barrels of kraut, 1200 head of cabbage, 35 boxes of lemons and 25 of grapefruit, 2000 loaves of bread, hundreds of pounds of coffee, rice and beans besides 40 gallons of stew cooked at Welcome Inn and 400 pounds of baked beans prepared by hotels.

The food had been hauled to the distributing point by trucks out of work, who donated trucks and time while the committee paid for gasoline and oil. Most of the food was donated. The remainder was purchased at bargain prices from dealers in sympathy with the activity.

The only salary was the nominal remuneration of the manager, Ralph Hirsch, former clothing manufacturer. The committee has abstained from soliciting, in order to avoid conflict with established agencies, and its only funds have been provided by volunteer donations sent to Mrs. Francis at 10 Lenox place.

GOV. LA FOLLETTE TAKES OFFICE

Wisconsin's Youngest Executive Takes Oath Today.

By the Associated Press.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 5.—Philip F. LaFollette, 33 years old, the State's youngest Governor, will take the oath of office today.

The ceremony will be simple, in contrast to the pomp attending the elevation of his father, the late Robert M. LaFollette, to the office in 1901. Philip, a brother of Senator Robert M. LaFollette Jr., is the third of his family to win office in Wisconsin as a Progressive Republican. He defeated Gov. Walter J. Kohler, Conservative Republican, for the nomination.

A. F. L. HEAD HOPEFUL FOR LABOR'S FUTURE

Green Lays Down Four Principles as Essential to Restore Prosperity.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—A note of optimism for relief of unemployment conditions in the United States is given by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, in a statement estimating that approximately 5,000,000 wage earners are out of work. "Gloomy as present conditions are," Green said, "we find hope in the spirit with which communities are rallying to meet the emergency of widespread need, and the capacity of American citizens to cope with difficult problems."

Hope also was seen by Green in reports from labor unions in 34 industrial cities showing the increase in unemployment for December was much less than the previous month and less than the regular seasonal increase for that period.

He added that he discerned rays of optimism also "in the fact that deflation of prices has gone so far as to indicate the bottom has been reached, in evidences of returning confidence in the production policies of important production companies; in the general belief that spring activity will mark the turning of the tide."

Put Wage Loss at $6,000,000,000.

"Wage earners have been bearing a heavy burden as a result of serious business depression," Green said. "About 50 per cent of trade union members have had to lower their standards of living because of lowered incomes. The incomes of wage earners have declined by more than $6,000,000,000 in the last year. As they represent more than 50 per cent of the purchasing public, their falling income has still further added to the business depression which was caused by pro-

COLD, FUGITIVES SURRENDER

Brothers, Had Been Sought for

By the Associated Press.

KINGSTON, N. C., Jan. 5.—Clyde and Tom Morton, middle-aged brothers, sought since Dec. 20 for the slaying of Asa G. Hawkins, and wounding of B. R. Martin, prohibition agents, came out of the White Oak River swamp yesterday and surrendered. The men, cold and hungry, were brought to the Lenoir County jail here for safe keeping. In jail they joined their younger brother, Ben, 31, and Conway Lever, 23, in custody since Dec. 21.

Hawkins and Morton were shot from ambush while searching for a still near Mayville. Their assailants escaped in the heavily wooded swamp.

Productivity increasing faster than incomes. "In sharp contrast to the decline in wages industries have in 1930 increased the sums paid for dividends and interest by more than $400,000,000. Part of this goes back into investments, whereas what is needed is to finance those who buy the products of industry."

"Needless Demoralization." "Fear has laid a paralyzing hand on our business transactions and there is needless demoralization. This fear is born of uncertainty. There can be no stability without organization based upon advance planning. What is needed in this critical situation is clear judgment and discriminating application of principles that will stimulate business activity."

"Attention has been necessarily directed to relief first, but permanent help can come only from return to regular customary employment. These fundamental principles are essential to restore and maintain business prosperity."

"High wages to finance consumers."

Shorter hours, so as to give employment to as many as possible.

"Organization of wage earners so this large group of consumers may be in a position to advance their interests and keep their returns from industry advancing with increased productivity."

"The development of the machinery to set up co-ordinated control of industry."

POPE EXPECTED TO REITERATE, MARRIAGE VIEWS

Encyclical Understood to Reiterate Catholic Disapproval of Divorce and Birth Control.

WILL HARK BACK TO FIRST PRINCIPLES

Special Comment Anticipated on Mixed Weddings—Stricter Rules on Publishing of Banns.

By the Associated Press.
ROME, Jan. 5.—Reiteration of the strict Catholic doctrine regarding marriage is expected in the encyclical which Pope Pius will issue this week.

Far from making concessions to modernistic trends, it is understood the encyclical will hark back to the first principles of the church—reiterating Catholicism's utter disapproval of divorce and emphasizing the doctrine that only by continence within the married state can families be limited without transgressing the divine law.

This reiteration was generally assumed, would be the Pope's answer to the Episcopal Bishop's qualified admission of birth control in certain cases, emanating from the Lambeth conference in London last summer.

Mixed marriages, those between Catholics and non-Catholics, are also expected to be the subject of special comment. It is generally taken for granted the Pope will re-emphasize that Bishops before granting dispensations for such unions, must extract a written promise from the non-Catholic contractant that all children born of the marriage must be brought up in the Catholic faith and that the non-Catholic party will in no way interfere with the Catholic party's fulfillment of religious duties. At the same time the duty of the Catholic party to pray unceasingly for conversion of the non-Catholic spouse and by force of example in plenty of life induce to such conversion is expected to be enjoined anew.

Result of King Boris' Wedding.
The Pope was represented as being stirred to this by the recent wedding of King Boris of Bulgaria to the former Italian Princess, Giovanna. Although both parties to that royal match gave the Pope written pledges on the foregoing points, the orthodox Bulgarian clergy attempted to make it appear the second ceremony in Sofia was the real binding one, whereas the pontiff had been assured beforehand it would merely be in the nature of a civic rite registering the marriage already contracted at Aassi.

The president of the Bulgarian orthodox synod, in the course of a speech to the newlyweds in the Sofia, Cathedral, congratulated Boris on "founding a real orthodox dynasty."

After issuance of the Pope's encyclical it is believed the contracting of mixed marriages, both among royalties and common folk, will be more difficult. It is taken for granted that in the future, parish priests, in the first instance, and Bishops, in the second, will be held to a strict accountability in exacting the guarantees the church requires.

Tightening of Other Regulations.
With this there also is expected to come a tightening of regulations regarding publication of banns, which normally must be read out to the congregations in the home parishes on the two Sundays immediately preceding the wedding. One object of this would be to prevent cases of "hasty in haste and repent at leisure," on which Catholicism has always frowned.

Members of the clergy, it is understood, also will be ordered to scrutinize with scrutiny and severity all proposed marriages between Catholics and those of mixed variety in order to prevent demands for annulments.

It is also taken for granted there will be a reiteration of the old law against marriages within the fourth degree of relationship.

Heretofore dispensations from this have been fairly easily obtainable for Catholic royalties—on whose unions the Pope himself normally is accustomed to pass—but henceforth it is predicted such "cousin marriages" as those of Princess Anne of France and the Duke of Apulia of Italy, which took place in 1917, will be most difficult, if not impossible, to contract with the church's approval.

The imperiled physical heritage of the children of such unions is said to be uppermost in the Pope's mind.

Marriages of this nature have been common for centuries among the Catholic royal houses and Catholic aristocracies of Europe in order to unite old families and consolidate estates and families.

Union of Clergy Members.
Another point the Pope is expected to make is insistence that all Catholics contracting matrimony in church be in "the state of grace" necessary for reception of one of the church's seven sacraments, namely having been confessed and absolved of sins before going to the altar.

Hitherto many, born Catholics

DISORDER IN BRITISH SHIP: 42 CREW MEMBERS HELD

Demonstration Said to Be Protest Against Curtailment Christmas Leaves.

By the Associated Press.
PLYMOUTH, England, Jan. 5.—Forty-two members of the crew of H. M. S. Lucia, submarine depot ship, were "lodged in naval barracks" today after what is thought to have been a demonstration against curtailed Christmas leaves. While an investigation by the Admiralty was under way, the 42 crew members were replaced on the Lucia might join the Atlantic fleet maneuvers. Officers of the ship and of the Devonport naval station would make no comment regarding the incident other than that it was being investigated and that it was not a mutiny.

In Plymouth to an unidentified senior officer was attributed the statement that the men were arrested during a march to the naval barracks at Devonport because of trouble over Christmas leaves and mail.

EINSTEIN PREFERS BUNGALOW

Rejects Offers of Palatial Homes While in Pasadena.

By the Associated Press.
PASADENA, Cal., Jan. 5.—With a dozen palatial homes at his disposal, Prof. Albert Einstein yesterday evidenced the simplicity he claims, and swiftly chose a modest seven-room bungalow. It is low-pitched with a high pitched English type roof. Banks of green shrubbery emphasize the simplicity of its plain white walls.

A lifelong friend of Miss Einstein, Mrs. Barbara Seibert, arrived to fill the house with guests. The two women were childhood friends in Bad-Schwalbach, Germany.

HELPED HER DIGESTION MORE THAN ANYTHING ELSE

"Suffered sometime with acid indigestion. ACIDINE has helped me more than anything I have ever taken," says Mrs. Emma Green, of Detroit, Michigan.

Just another of thousands who are astonished at the way this prescription ACIDINE succeeds when many other remedies fail. The reason is it is somewhat different from other medicines. ACIDINE contains lactic acid, which, in laboratory tests, digested 800 times its own weight of starch foods. ACIDINE neutralizes burning acid, soothes irritated stomach and intestinal linings, helps relieve acidosis.

When upset stomach, gas, pain, heartburn, bad taste, heavy feeling, short breath, dizziness, nervousness, easy headaches and sleeplessness, trouble you, take ACIDINE. If not delighted, make refund money. Get it from your druggist today.

MAN CUT WITH RAZOR BY NEGRO ROBBER DIES

Homicide Verdict an Death of Charles E. Riley, Head of Disinfecting Concern.

A Coroner's verdict of homicide at the hands of parties unknown was returned at an inquest today in the death of Charles E. Riley, 65 years old, proprietor of the St. Louis Disinfecting Co., whose throat was cut with a razor when he resisted a robber near his home at 1921A Market street Saturday night.

Riley died at City Hospital early yesterday after falling to identify a Negro arrested on a description provided by another Negro who saw the struggle from across the street.

The prisoner was produced at the inquest but there was no evidence against him beyond the testimony of police that Riley had said he wore similar clothing—jumper, overalls and cap—and was of the same general build as the robber.

Riley was going to buy a magazine when he was stopped at the northeast corner of Market street and Garrison avenue, a half block from his home and place of business, by a Negro who brandished an open razor and demanded money.

He grappled with the Negro and was cut during the struggle. The Negro fled south in Garrison avenue while Riley staggered across the street to a drug store where he waited until an ambulance arrived.

His widow, Mrs. Corn Alice Riley, survives.

Youth Confesses Shooting Druggist in Attempted Holdup.

A youth who said he was Edward Frew, 1500 South Fourteenth street, confessed to police yesterday he shot Robert P. Thebus, proprietor of a drug store at 1859 South Jefferson avenue, in an attempted holdup Dec. 12. He implicated a youth said to be his cousin, DuWay Hayes, who also confessed. Thebus, who was shot when he resisted the robbers, was released from the hospital Saturday. Frew related that he dropped his pistol after he had shot Thebus and that the druggist emptied it at him and Hayes as they fled from the store empty-handed.

Police declined to disclose where they obtained information leading to the arrests in a poolroom at Eighteenth street and Franklin avenue.

CRASH TRYING TO STEAL PLANE

Two Men, Posing as Bootleggers, Raid Hangar.
By the Associated Press. WAUSAU, Wis., Jan. 5.—Wisconsin's first attempted airplane robbery ended yesterday in a crash which wrecked the plane. Two men, posing as bootleggers

"In a hurry to get a load of liquor at Green Bay, Wis., and run it to Chicago," forced Melvin Johnson, watchman for the Northern Airways, to open a hangar at the airport and wheel a plane out. Johnson said the men made him start the motor. They got in but taxied the ship down the field nosed into an embankment. The robbers escaped.

MOTOR VEHICLE GAIN IN U. S. IN 1930 LEAST ON RECORD

26,941,896 Machines in Use, Increase of Only Six-Tenths of One Per Cent.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Motor vehicles now in use throughout the United States are calculated at 26,941,896 in a compilation by Motor from state registration statistics. While this is an increase of 166,158 over last year, the gain in 1930 was the smallest on record, the magazine says.

The compilation for 1930 was only six-tenths of one per cent larger than the total of 26,501,446 in 1929. The smallest previous gain was 5.1 per cent in 1927.

Two factors were noted in the poor showing last year. Domestic sales cars and trucks fell off 1,200,000, while thousands of automobile owners, suffering from hard times, kept their cars in garages, out of service. Of the vehicles now in use, 23,316,013 are passenger cars and 3,625,883 are trucks. New York leads the list again with 2,288,000.

AGAINST BRUTALITY IN FILMS

By the Associated Press. LONDON, Jan. 5.—The British Board of Film Censors has admonished motion picture companies concerning "the tendency to brutality and sordid themes which are unwholesome and repugnant to large sections of audiences in this country."

The board is a voluntary body but its injunctions are heeded with respect by the entire industry in Great Britain. Its president is the Right Honorable Edward Shortt, former Secretary for Home Affairs. In the future, it was announced today, no film will receive the board's approval if its theme, "without any redeeming character, depends upon intense brutality and unrelieved sordidness."

130 MORE DRY AGENTS O.K'D BY HOUSE GROUP

First Deficiency Appropriation Bill Reported Favorably by Committee.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—An immediate increase of 130 dry agents in the Prohibition Bureau's field service was recommended to the House today in the first deficiency appropriation bill.

The measure, reported by the Appropriations Committee, carries $48,370 for the bureau. Besides the additional agents, who are the first of 500 requested by Director Woodcock for the next fiscal year, it would provide 48 investigators, 24 instructors and more than 50 miscellaneous employees. The agents to be added, Woodcock thinks, represent the number that can be absorbed before July 1. At present the bureau has about 1400 agents. Of the allotment, $44,300 for

2125 CASES HANDLED IN COURT

OF CRIMINAL CORRECTION NO. 2 OF 1st Action Remaining on Docket Jan. 1. Two Were Continued Generally, Report Shows.

Circuit Attorney Miller issued a report today showing that 2125 cases of 3391 on the docket of Division No. 2 of the Court of Criminal Correction were disposed of during 1930. The cases represented those in which warrants were issued during the year, plus those carried over from 1929, and compared with 2260 on the docket in 1929.

Of the 148 cases remaining on the docket, two were continued generally and defendants are at large in seven. Of the 2125 cases disposed of, defendants were held for hearings on the merits in 1506 and discharged in 619. There were 746 preliminary hearings and 758 defendants waived preliminary hearings.

The agents and instructors represent increased activities of the bureau, while $200,070 is due to reorganization following the transfer of the bureau from the treasury, which retained the Industrial Alcohol Bureau.

PART TWO.

PRINCESS LOUISE, SISTER OF KING, DIES IN ENGLAND

Succumbs in Sleep to Heart Disease—Lord Chamberlain Orders Six Weeks of Mourning at Court.

MARRIED OUTSIDE ROYALTY WHEN 22

Husband Was Duke of Fife Who Died in 1912 as Result of Exposure in Shipwreck.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, Jan. 5.—Princess Louise, eldest sister of King George V., and widow of the Duke of Fife, died in her sleep yesterday of heart disease.

King George at Sandringham was notified and the lord chamberlain immediately ordered a period of four weeks full mourning for the British court and two additional weeks of half-mourning. The Princess Royal was 63 years old, a year and eight months younger than the monarch. She was one of the most democratic members of the royal family and was popularly nicknamed "Her Royal Shyness."

Her death was not unexpected. She had had recurrent attacks of heart disease, and in 1925 she suffered from a serious gastric hemorrhage. Recently, however, she had been in somewhat better health. Her physicians at midnight Saturday announced an increased weakness in her condition.

Romance and Adventure. Although resentful of the ostentation which accompanies the royal family she knew both romance and adventure. The romance came at the age of 22 when she married the Earl of Fife, a Briton of excellent lineage but not of royal birth, against the wishes of her grandmother, Queen Victoria.

Her father, later to become Edward VII, and her mother approved, and Queen Victoria, who had favored the German prince, eventually was won over by Louise's pleadings. Shortly after their marriage in 1889 her husband was made Duke of Fife.

The adventure came in 1911 when, traveling with the Duke to Egypt abroad the Duke they were shipwrecked off Cape Spartel, 10 miles from Tangier. The Duke died a year later at Asuan as a result of exposure.

Known for Democracy. The Princess was known for her democracy. She often rode in buses when traveling about London, other passengers not knowing that the unassuming woman was the eldest sister of the King. She was fond of the theater.

Her title, Princess Royal, conferred on her by King Edward, presumably will pass to Princess Mary, only sister of the Prince of Wales, wife of the Earl of Harewood. Louise's full name was Alexandra Victoria Dagmar. She was born in Marlborough House Feb. 28, 1867, the eldest daughter of King Edward VII and Queen Alexandra.

King George characterized her as his "ministering angel," with reference particularly to the time when as a boy he faced many difficulties and had no expectations of ascending the throne.

She was ever a lover of children, and celebrated her birthdays by entertaining as many of her nephews and nieces, and as many of her neighbors children, as she could.

INDIAN LEADER DIES IN LONDON

Muslim Was in British Capital for Round Table Conference.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, Jan. 5.—Hindu and Muslim paid tribute today to Mahatma Muhammad Ali, Indian Moslem leader, who died here yesterday in the midst of his work at the Indian round table conference.

Muhammad Ali was 53 years old. He was an Oxford graduate and, although at one time he was an ally of Mahatma Gandhi, he never gave his entire co-operation to the present campaign of civil resistance.

22,000 Swedish Workers to Strike.

By the Associated Press. STOCKHOLM, Jan. 4.—Thirty-two thousand workers affiliated with the textile trades union are affected by a strike order issued today calling out workers from all textile in which employers have decided to cut wages, beginning Jan. 12. Negotiations looking toward a compromise were ineffective, and the strike is scheduled to begin on the date set for the wage reduction.

Of Making Many Books

JOHN G. NEIHARDT

Divinely Favored

ALBERT EINSTEIN. A Biographical Portrait. By Anton Resner. (A. E. Boni, New York City, $2.50.)

THE author of this book writes Einstein, "is one who knows me rather intimately by his endeavor, thoughts, and in bedroom slippers. I read it to satisfy, in my own curiosity, what interested me was not a desire to know what I am or look like, but rather another's avowal of what I am. I found the facts of the book duly accurate, and its characterization, throughout, as good as might be expected of one who is so willingly take for granted that he is more or less than I am. What has perhaps been overlooked is the irrational, the inconceivable, the droll, even the insane, which nature, inhumanly operating, implants in an individual, and these things are singled out only in the crucible of one's own mind. This is as it should be, for, otherwise, how could the isolation of a distance place, the great mathematician avows that he has attained "almost more happiness than one man can bear," and indeed Einstein's biography might well have been entitled "The Story of a Happy Man." The story of his happiness is easily understood without being very useful to the rest of us. For all his wonderful mentality—which we are all willing to take for granted—the spirit of the man is childlike. He is apparently a great poet, by some curious whimsy of fate, was given cosmic conceptions and mathematical symbols instead of the usual human dreams and soaring words to build with. To be a poet, and yet to be freed by an intense human preoccupation from the stuff of human sorrow, is to be divinely favored.

Whatever may be the significance of Einstein's work, it is most interesting for a layman to read the story of his life in the light of the thesis above suggested. It is reasonable to suppose that the Theory of Relativity is not the last word in its realm. Men's notions of their universe come and go like the peach crops. No one any longer takes seriously the geocentric cosmology; but the harmonic construction is not the last word in its realm. May it not some day be so with Einstein's cosmic dream?

Lady Margaret Hoboy, said to be "the first woman diarist," lived on her estate in Yorkshire during the late sixteenth and early seventeenth centuries. Her diary, now first published, covers the period from August, 1595, to July, 1605, and while only occasional references to events in the great world are to be found therein—notably the death of Queen Elizabeth, whose funeral the lady and her lord attended—considerable light is thrown upon the manners and customs of rural England under the Tudors and the early Stuarts.

THOUSANDS of our citizens and about one twenty-fifth of our national wealth are in foreign countries. For many generations international law has recognized that a government has an interest in its citizens and their property and is under a moral duty to protect them wherever they are. Otherwise a country could be seriously crippled by the destruction of property or its citizens themselves when they are abroad.

Our government does not like to do this and avoids it when possible. But if we failed to do it in Central America European governments would send their forces there to protect their corresponding interests. Our forces are not in any country because we want them there. They are there because of our obligation under international law.

THE OBSERVANCE and enforcement of such law is the best guarantee of order and peace.

100 MODERN JAPANESE PRINTS AT MUSEUM

Collection Now on Display Shows Revival of Color Printing.

A collection of 100 modern Japanese wood block prints, which are being circulated to show the revival of the Japanese art of color printing, are on display at the Art Museum in Forest Park.

The prints, selected by Arthur MacLean, curator of Oriental art at the Toledo Museum of Art, are by 10 representative Japanese artists and are of typical Japanese subjects. They are views of Japanese lakes and forests, of temples, of scenes of actors in classic dramas, of birds and animals, streets and places—a panorama of Japanese life.

The artists represented include Hashiguchi-Goyo, who died much to revive the art of color printing before his death in 1921. Prints by him are now exceedingly rare, as his blocks have been destroyed in the great earthquake. Five of his prints are in the exhibit.

Other artists represented in the exhibit are: Ito-Hajime, noted for his studies of families; Kawase-Bunjin, formerly a painter in the European style; Miki-Saichiro, known as Suzan, and Natori-Shunens, who specializes in portrait prints of actors; Oda-Ka-guma, known for his water colors; Yoshida-Hiroshi, a painter of prominence, has 35 prints on view. The exhibit, which is in Gallery 31, will remain on view through January.

The program of gallery talks, museum hours, talks on prints and story hours for children for January is as follows:

Museum hours for adults, held Tuesdays at 11 o'clock and Friday at 10 o'clock, will be devoted to a study of the new period rooms at the museum, and their relation to the decorative arts.

Subjects for the Saturday morning gallery talks are: Jan. 10, "The Charm of Textiles"; Jan. 17, "Modern Japanese Wood Blocks"; Jan. 24, "Oriental Rugs"; Jan. 31, "Medieval Writings."

Dry points and aquatints will be discussed and illustrated in the talks on prints held every Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. The qualities of paintings will be considered in the Saturday afternoon story hours for children, with special stories adapted for children 6 years of age and under. The hour preceding the story hour has been reserved for drawing under the direction of Miss Margaret Wuerpel.

The attendance at the Art Museum during 1930 was 307,155, a gain of 7599 over the total for 1929. The largest monthly attendance, 12,953, was in March during the Carnegie International Exhibition of Paintings.

Muriel Kerr's Recital

MURIEL KERR, 20-year-old pianist, and the second protegee of the Schubert Memorial Association to play in St. Louis, gave a recital last night in the home of Lionberger Davis in Brentmoor. The audience was almost as much charmed by the youth and good looks of the artist as by her playing, even though her artistic talents were conspicuous.

Miss Kerr started with a small group of numbers by Scarlatti and Leo, followed this with the Schumann Etudes Symphoniques, and concluded with several numbers of Debussy, Medtner and Lisponow. Her playing was immaculate, vigorous and imaginative, but had the characteristic deficiency of her age and generation—that is to say, it was not distinguished for its emotional maturity.

The next recital on the Schubert Memorial list will be that of Schumann, the violinist, which will be given at the home of Charles Rice on Clayton road—T. E. S.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

THE annual exodus of St. Louisans on winter trips has begun and will continue until early spring. Dr. and Mrs. Harvey G. Mudd, 47 Vandeventer place, will leave St. Louis about Jan. 27 for Mexico. They will be some time in Mexico City and will take trips from there. En route home they will visit in San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Silas Bent McKinley, who are occupying Mrs. Ames Cushman's house, 6333 Ellenwood avenue, sailed yesterday for a Mediterranean cruise. They will return home in April. Mr. and Mrs. McKinley spent a few days at the Weylin Hotel in New York before sailing.

Mrs. Harry Potter of New York, formerly of St. Louis, will arrive in about two weeks to visit her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Garneau Weld of Litsinger road.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Emerson Vogel and their small child returned yesterday to their home in Chicago after a holiday visit with Mrs. Vogel's mother, Mrs. Helen Johnson Niedringhaus, 29 Portland place. Mrs. Vogel was Miss Marjorie Niedringhaus.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coit Day, 5117 Westminster place, will entertain a group of the debutantes and their escorts at a theater party to-night honoring Miss Melissa McKay, daughter of Mrs. John A. McKay, Miss Alice Hellett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis A. Hellett, and Miss Mary Francis Day, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Day. After the performance, Mr. and Mrs. Day will give a buffet supper at their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Theron E. Catlin of Brentmoor are spending a few weeks on a ranch in New Mexico. Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Hager Jr. of Villa Alicia, Huntleigh Village, and Mrs. Hager's brother, August A. Busch Jr., are planning to take a house together in Miami, Fla., for part of the winter season.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Boland of Watson road entertained 40 members of the school set at an informal tea dance yesterday afternoon for their young daughter, Miss Margaret Boland, who attends Villa Duchesne, and their son, Billy, a student at the St. Louis University High School.

Mrs. A. A. Janis, 6021 Pershing avenue, is entertaining her son, Le Sieur Janis, Pittsburg, Pa.

An engagement of interest in St. Louis is that of Miss Frances Anne Bonfoy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence P. Bonfoy, Quincy, Ill., and James N. Cooke Jr., Bronxville, N. Y. The engagement was announced last evening at a dinner party given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bonfoy in Quincy.

The prospective bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Bonfoy, 5439 Cabanne avenue, and has visited in St. Louis frequently. She recently returned from a trip to Honolulu with her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward N. Monroe, Quincy, Mass. Bonfoy is a graduate of Briar Cliff Manor, New York, and has traveled abroad extensively.

Mr. Cooke is the son of Mr. James N. Cooke of Bronxville, and is a graduate of Princeton University. He and his fiancée were in St. Louis last Monday to attend the Princeton Triangle Club play and the dance following at the St. Louis Country Club.

The wedding will take place early in the fall.

Dr. and Mrs. Roland M. Klemme and son, Charles Rayhill, have taken possession of their new apartment in the Oxford and have as their guests Mrs. R. Lee Hoffmann and son of Kansas City.

Mrs. Walter Gregory Meiser entertained with a tea Wednesday at her home, 7137 Delmar boulevard, for her daughter, Judith Ann and her classmates at Visitation Academy.

President and Mrs. John L. Roemer of Lindenwood College have returned from Chicago, where they spent the holidays.

Mrs. J. L. Carleton has closed her home, 5247 Westminster place, and has taken an apartment at 230 West Lockwood avenue, Webster Groves.

The Eliot Alliance of the Church of the Messiah will sponsor a book review at 1:30 o'clock Thursday. Mrs. Ida B. Cole will review "Ole Man Adam an' His Chillin'" by Roark Bradford, from which the play, "The Green Pastures," was dramatized.

Luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock, and will be preceded at 11 o'clock by a meeting of the executive board.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Hamilton of Ferguson have returned to Louisville, Ky., after spending the

Then it was necessary to locate Elmer Rice, the author, and get his consent and, quite important for a stock company, his royalty terms. That was finally arranged, but there was a stumbling block which seemed serious. Contracts with the Shubert Theater here stipulated that, as a protection to that house the play could not be presented in any other theater in St. Louis until two months after the Shubert's showing. WITH the addition of a visiting artist or two, the resident players at the Orpheum Theater last night presented, for the first time in St. Louis, Donald Stewart's pleasant little comedy, "Rebound," which proved to be a play of tangled love affairs and marriages depending upon a succession of bright lines for its laughs rather than upon any action or unusual situations. The piece was so well played by Helen Flint, brought to St. Louis for the leading role by Mary Hart, Owen Davis Jr., Pierre Watkins and Arthur Peterson, that its lack of dramatic value was almost entirely hidden, but it was, nevertheless, the least attractive of the plays in the Orpheum's pretentious repertoire.

"Rebound," however, was almost completely overshadowed by an announcement made from the stage by Pierre Watkins after the second act, that Miss Hart had secured the rights, scenic production and 12 of the leading actors in "Street Scene" and would present the Pulitzer prize winning drama in its entirety starting on Jan. 15. Back of this announcement was a record breaking long distance series of negotiations which began at 8 o'clock Saturday night and ended successfully for Miss Hart some time after midnight Sunday morning.

The company which played "Street Scene," one of the outstanding successes of last year, and the present season, at the Shubert Theater last week, brought its long tour to a close in St. Louis Saturday night. Baggage cars were waiting to take the heavy production back to New York when Miss Hart got busy. William A. Brady, owner of the show was first communicated with on the long distance telephone and agreed to rent the entire production and acting rights to the Orpheum. Then it was necessary to locate Elmer Rice, the author, and get his consent and, quite important for a stock company, his royalty terms. That was finally arranged, but there was a stumbling block which seemed serious. That done, Miss Hart talked to the members of the cast of the visiting company and signed the 12 leading members. They agreed to stay over in St. Louis for four weeks in order to work in the play for two weeks at the Orpheum. Then the scenery and stage effects were hauled from the Shubert to a local store house and the work was done.

Blanche Ring, well known star, had been engaged to play "Ladies of the Jury" at the Orpheum, on Jan. 18, but she, over the long distance phone, consented to a postponement.

This is said to be the first time that a repertory company has secured a play in this manner to present it, following a local engagement at admission prices bounded by a "dollar top."

"Strictly Dishonorable," With New Cast, Back at American.

"Strictly Dishonorable," Preston Sturges' delightfully funny comedy of a New York spinster, which scored a great hit at the American Theater earlier in the present season, came back to that house for another week's visit last night, and, as before, proved most engaging. It is being presented this time by an entirely different company—Brock Pemberton, the producer, has a half dozen or so organizations playing the piece on the road this year—but the present cast is in every way the equal of the one seen here before. Elizabeth Love is the pretty Southern girl who finds happiness through a chance visit to a speakeasy and Cesar Romero is the Italian opera singer who wins her hand. Both were charming in their roles.

This day our cousin Josephine arrived from Cleveland with her Boston puppy Deedee, a top-sired mascot, and my dogs took to him like a cat to cream. So at my scribbling, but Verna Porter came in jittering all was wrong at Sussex Hall, the old squire was dying, loudest were in the south meadow and other idiocies.

In the evening to the cutting of Dean Palmer's thirty-sixth birthday cake, and among others there were Mr. and Mrs. Owen Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur William Brown, Mrs. Dean Cornwell and Irvin Cobb.

THE Dude Ranch is a new night club in the West 50's. The doorman is togged in a two-gallon hat, blue shirt, chaps and properly booted and spurred. Inside is informality of the ranch house, cowboy songs, dances and other peccadilloes of the pampas.

ALTHOUGH boys on his Brooklyn street found Sidney Franklin, home from his triumphs as a matador in the Spanish bull rings, extremely democratic, it was agreed he was a different young man. Unconsciously, he had acquired old-world graces. At his premiere in a vaudeville house he executed quick steps of the arena. A bull fighter's basket of tricks lies in superb poising, in tango-like dodging to one side as the bull snorts by. Frequently there are dainty lifts on tiptoe and prouetting with hand on hip. In the midst of his performance a tough play for two weeks at the Orpheum. Then the scenery and stage effects were hauled from the Shubert to a local store house and the work was done.

Blanche Ring, well known star, had been engaged to play "Ladies of the Jury" at the Orpheum, on Jan. 18, but she, over the long distance phone, consented to a postponement.

This is said to be the first time that a repertory company has secured a play in this manner to present it, following a local engagement at admission prices bounded by a "dollar top."

"Strictly Dishonorable," With New Cast, Back at American.

"Strictly Dishonorable," Preston Sturges' delightfully funny comedy of a New York spinster, which scored a great hit at the American Theater earlier in the present season, came back to that house for another week's visit last night, and, as before, proved most engaging. It is being presented this time by an entirely different company—Brock Pemberton, the producer, has a half dozen or so organizations playing the piece on the road this year—but the present cast is in every way the equal of the one seen here before. Elizabeth Love is the pretty Southern girl who finds happiness through a chance visit to a speakeasy and Cesar Romero is the Italian opera singer who wins her hand. Both were charming in their roles.

CHURCH OFFICERS INSTALLED

102 New Deacons and Elders at Union Avenue Christian Church.

Installation of 102 newly elected deacons and elders of Union Avenue Christian Church was conducted at the church yesterday by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. George A. Campbell. The officers were chosen in the church's annual election. Dr. Campbell preached on the duties and privileges of church officers and members. A duty of church officers, he said, is "to make it easier for men and women to believe in God."

Coca Cola Bottling Is Higher With Wagner Electric and Rice-Stix Also Showing Some Gain.

ST. LOUIS STOCK EXCHANGE, Jan. 5.—Prices were mainly unchanged to higher today, though international stock closed 1/4 point lower and Dr. Pepper one point. Coca-Cola Bottling, selling ex-dividend, was up 1/4 point. Gains were shown by Wagner Electric, St. Louis Public Service, Rice-Stix and Johnson-Stephens-Shink, the latter up seven points on 10-share lot.

FOREIGN BONDS SHOW IMPROVED TONE

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Large fractional advance in many domestic issues and the improved tone of the foreign list today reflected the investment demand for coupon bearing obligations. After a slow start the volume of trading increased so that the turnover approximated that of recent sessions. A few of the railroad issues that were the first to recover after the long decline in October and November were somewhat hesitant, but the main body was higher. In scattered issues of railroads, utilities and industrials some large advances were registered. The foreign list was dominated by buying. The feature was investment in Latin-American governments.

Wall Street News and Comment

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Oils Steel Co. has awarded to United Engineering & Foundry Co. a contract for a new 75-inch continuous hot strip mill to be installed at the Riverside plant.

Operations at the Camden, N. J., plant of the R. C. A. Victor Corporation, temporarily suspended last month, were resumed today.

Ernest T. Weir, chairman of the board of National Steel Corporation, in a letter to stockholders, said the corporation earned almost double its 1930 dividend in 1931, the first year of its existence.

Buick Motor Co., a division of General Motors Corp., produced and shipped 4092 cars in December, against 7197 in November and 6242 in December, 1930. The plant was closed the last two weeks in December for inventory, but production has been resumed and the January schedule calls for output of 6044 cars.

Atlantic Pipe Line Co. has purchased the Liberty Pipe Line Co. operating in the Barbours' Hill field in Texas. The purchase also includes gathering lines of Barbours' Hill Terminal at Cedar Bayou and certain equipment, and the Shipside Terminal at Texas City.

Sales of the Dryice Corporation of America for the first 10 months of 1930 were more than $2,000,000, compared with total sales of $1,300,000 during 1929. Robert R. Rust, president of Dryice Holding Corporation, said in a letter to stockholders.

The Louisville & Nashville Railroad has placed orders for 50,750 tons of rails and 10,000 tons of rail accessories with the Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railroad Co., a subsidiary of United States Steel.

Exchange Rate Made 15 Per Cent.

SYDNEY, Australia, Jan. 5.—The Bank of New South Wales today announced an increase in its exchange rate to 15 per cent. Other banks of the commonwealth, after hurried conferences, announced that they would follow suit, with a rate of 15 per cent for buyers and 15 1/2 per cent for sellers. The commonwealth bank participated in the exchange.

CORN FUTURES RANGE LOWER IN LOCAL TRADE

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 5.—Corn futures closed 1 1/2 to 2c lower, with July wheat 1c off. Late influences in both markets were increases in the domestic visible supply figures.

The news of day included higher Liverpool market, report of rainier weather in Argentina and decrease in supplies of wheat on ocean passage.

Other news comprised little smaller primary wheat receipts than week ago or last year and report of moist weather in part of domestic winter wheat belt. Larger wheat stocks at Liverpool and Rotterdam were reported.

Winnipeg closed 1 1/2c and 1 1/2c lower.

Liverpool was up 1 1/2d in one cable. The close was 1d to 1 1/2d net higher.

May wheat opened at 79, July wheat 84 1/2. May corn 72 1/2 and July corn 73 1/2.

Local wheat receipts which were 123,000 bu., compared with 107,000 last week and 173,000 last year, included 28 cars local and 30 through. Corn receipts which were 56,000 bu., compared with 50,000 last week and 123,000 last year, included 32 cars local and eight through. Oats receipts which were 68,000 bu., compared with 10,800 last week and 81,400 last year, included 22 cars local and three through. Hay receipts were seven cars local and one through.

CORN—No. 3 mixed, 64 1/2c; No. 4 mixed, 63 1/2c; No. 5 yellow, 62c; No. 6 yellow, 61c; No. 7 white, 60c; No. 8 white, 59c.

OATS—No. 1 white, 34 1/2c; No. 2 white, 34c; No. 3 white, 33 1/2c; No. 4 white, 33c; No. 5 white, 32 1/2c; No. 6 white, 32c; No. 7 white, 31 1/2c; No. 8 white, 31c.

WHEAT CLOSING IRREGULAR

AND CORN MARKET DOWN

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Prediction made that the wheat market would favor retention of the prohibition laws was said to be one factor tending to induce lower grain prices today. Values also were bearishly affected by United States visible supply increases.

Wheat closed irregular, 1 1/2c lower to 1 1/2c higher. Corn started unchanged to 1/2c lower, and provisions unchanged to 1/2c higher.

With buying slack, grains averaged lower.

Rainier weather in Argentina and decreased supplies of wheat on ocean passage failed to act as a stimulus. Oats, 1/2c off to 1/2c higher, while wheat kept near to the initial range. Corn started unchanged to 1/2c lower, and provisions unchanged to 1/2c higher.

Enlarged receipts of wheat at primary centers, combined with the influence of the bumper crop, and the fact that the winter crop territory also is being sown, have been factors in the downward movement of grain prices at Liverpool and Rotterdam.

Corn and oats sympathized with wheat downturn. Lack of purchase orders, rather than selling pressure, characterized corn dealings.

Provisions held steady despite the lower wheat values. The modification of the packer's contract decree had no apparent market influence.

Visible Grain Changes.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The visible supply of American grain shows the following changes in bushels: Wheat increased 1,155,000; corn increased 898,000; oats decreased 420,000; barley decreased 156,000.

SOPHISTICATED? Yes. Sophisticated youth is the theme of the sensational comedy hit, "YOUNG SINNERS," the play which opens next Sunday night at the SHUBERT. It has a plot around a thrilled young man with too much wealth at his command and who regards the world with a CYNICAL EYE. How his father and his sweetheart, who is pert, vivacious and WISE BEYOND HER YEARS.

very cleverly and wittily unfolded. At sensible pre-war prices, too. The night, 50c to $2. The matinee, Wed. & Sat., 50c to $1. Seat sale Thursday.

TO PROSECUTE MEMBER OF HOUSE FOR SELLING JOBS

Department of Justice Preparing Criminal Action Against Representative Accused of Taking Money for Appointments.

MEMBER INVOLVED IN CASE NOT NAMED

Special Attorney Likely to Be Selected — Irregularities Alleged in District of Harry E. Rowbottom — Statement by Watson.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The Department of Justice prepared today to institute criminal action against the Indiana member of Congress charged by the Postoffice Department with accepting money from four Postmasters to obtain their appointments. Justice officials declined to name the Representative.

The Postmasterships concerned all were in the district of Indiana now represented by Harry E. Rowbottom, Republican, who was defeated for re-election in November. No formal action has yet been instituted.

A special prosecuting attorney probably will be sent from Washington to conduct the case. No announcement was made, but it was pointed out at the Justice Department that, since the case involved political angles, and since George R. Jeffrey, United States Attorney at Indianapolis, is in a sense a political appointee, he could be relieved of embarrassment by having the case taken out of his hands. The four Postmasters have been dismissed.

Penalties for Offense.

There are two statutes under which action might be instituted. Under one, at least, the giver as well as the receiver of bribes might be open to prosecution. One provides a maximum penalty of a year in jail and $1000 fine. The other provides two years in jail and $10,000 fine.

Rowbottom was not named in the Postoffice Department announcement of the dismissals yesterday, but two of the dismissed persons said they had contributed to Rowbottom's campaign. Fund and another was active for him in the last election, when he was defeated by a Democrat.

The discharged Postmasters are: Otto A. Weibrenner, Mount Vernon; William E. Davidson, Petersburg; McKinley Ayres, Chrisney; and Mrs. Helen Roetz, Bloomville. A rural carrier, Ross Wibbeler of Dale, also was suspended.

Senators Investigated Inquiry.

The investigation which ended in the dismissals was instigated by Indiana's two Republican Senators, Watson and Robinson. Assistant Postmaster-General Coleman said they reported gossip prevalent in Indiana regarding payments of money in exchange for appointments.

The Postoffice Department statement narrated the events leading up to the dismissals as follows:

"About 16 days ago Senators Watson and Robinson of Indiana brought to the attention of the Postoffice Department gossip prevalent in Indiana to the effect that certain Postmasters and other appointees for positions had been paying and causing to be paid various sums of money to a Congressman to obtain the appointments desired."

A searching investigation was immediately inaugurated by the inspection division, resulting in evidence so conclusive in its character that these Postmasters were dismissed today (Monday)."

Watson's Statement.

"Various people of standing presented documentary evidence to Senator Robinson and me," said Watson. "We took this to the Postmaster-General and asked that he make a thorough investigation. This investigation was made. The evidence gathered by five investigators was read to me today (Monday) by the Postmaster-General. He said he would have to decide the postmaster involved and turn the case over to the Department of Justice."

"I told him there was no other course and I further asked that the department take complete charge of the affair and go so far as to name the entire postmaster on its own responsibility. It is all very unfortunate and Senator Robinson and I want the whole affair handled by the regular Government officers."

Appointments to replace the four
